Context: capacity of households in agricultural production

The Blue Gold Program (BGP) aims to improve agricultural production systems through improved water management in agriculture. This document highlights how households benefit directly from these interventions designed to increase their productivity, despite the safety offered by embankments.

BGP identified three categories of households: those living off the grid, those involved in agriculture production, and those who have adopted innovations to water their crops.

BGP interventions are thus related to meeting differing requirements. Some intervention groups benefit from homestead production.

Blue Gold Program Wiki

The wiki version of the Lessons Learnt Report of the Blue Gold program, documents the experiences of a technical assistance (TA) team working in a development project implemented by the Bangladesh Water Development Board (BWDB) and the Department of Agricultural Extension (DAE) over an eight+ year period from March 2013 to December 2021. The wiki lessons learnt report (LLR) is intended to complement the BWDB and DAE project completion reports (PCRs), with the aim of recording lessons learnt for use in the design and implementation of future interventions in the coastal zone.
