Report on pilot joint UP-BGP workshops on Women's Empowerment

Satkhira, 1 and 3 October, 2018

1. Background of the workshop:

Half of the population of the Blue Gold project area are women, who are often little involved in income generating activities (or productivity increase) and lack power. To better achieve the objectives of BGP, both men and women need to have the opportunity to contribute to increased (agricultural) production and productivity - as this will raise the total production and reduces poverty- and participate in decision-making - as this will lead to better decisions. This will also contribute to the empowerment of women and more gender equality, which is in line with the policy of the Government of Bangladesh, including the local governments such as the Union Parishads, and Blue Gold's results framework.

Because in practice, the potential of women still remains more under-used than men's, this pilot workshop focused on increasing women's potential and empowerment. The target women (30 per workshop) were those women WMG members who are from the poorer sections and/or destitute<sup>1</sup>, and who did not had earlier opportunity to participate in other BGP activities, such as FFS. However, they all had at least a small piece of homestead land. Selection was by the concerned WMG presidents.

2. Objective of the workshops:

Women's empowerment through utilizing women's potential and locally available resources, in particular local government services (e.g. from UP) and BGP support.

The workshops are joint efforts of the concerned UP and BGP, also sharing the budget, with the UP responsible for logistics and providing presentations about their facilities and services as available for the target women. BGP took the initiative, and participated in the facilitation of the workshop.

Two workshops were held<sup>2</sup>:
